Dear Internationals,

Most of us are now long into the habit of writing 2018. Occasionally it happens that it pops up – like the pen or when typing it’s in our fingers. But a year cannot be restarted, time cannot be reused. But is to be remembered. Hopefully a lot from the year 2017 is good to keep and in the future worth to rethink. Memories we take with us wherever we live, and piece together it is our backpack to unpack, and also to further develop.

The year as the European Capital of Culture was full of events. It seems it leads to more variety in Aarhus City as well as more optimism – also includes for a good number of people throughout even our region experienced more prosperity. More jobs were created, diversity more appreciated and life in general brought into our city. It’s something we should keep in mind, as we slowly move toward the official opening of Aarhus as the European Voluntary Capital in 2018. – See more details under Section 4.

It was lovely to meet at AroS. A most enjoyable morning with lots of questions and answers, in addition some good piece of advice! – Thanks a lot for coming.

The annual UIC Christmas Party had to be called off. But another party is underway. For a party is great and life-assuring. Therefore please mark the date 31 January from 3pm. Details will follow.

Aarhus Record Growth Rate created more than 6,500 new jobs during the 2017 year, see details under Section 4!

Section 3 – always opens for new information offered from outside. This week the consequences if a foreign student / staff works a little too much due to the working permit. At the moment you receive a fine, but also lose the right to permanent stay in Denmark for 15 years.. – And a self-defense seminar in English offered, see below.

In the City of smiles we learned the shortest distance between two is giving a smile! Give it a try!

The weather and daylight. King winter weather can bring snow perhaps Sunday and Monday. But mainly we can expect some rain, a little sun, and most of all cloudy like to today. It could be fun with some snow for Aarhus has some nice hills for sledding! The temperatures are not likely to bring it about though! As nights range between minus 1 to 0 Celsius and day temperatures will be from 2 to 4 Celsius. - Since winter solstice 21 December we have 28 minutes more of daylight, whereas the sun got up at 8.48 am and sets at 4.06 pm. As time goes by it will rapidly exceed – and influence us positively!

UIC Newsletter always aims at providing information, which can assist everyone in getting to know more of the good events, which are on today and in the coming days. – First some information of General Interest and at the bottom the Calendar with specific activities mentioned at the bottom.

1. UIC and selected IAS, AIAS & AU events & information

UIC Party takes place Wednesday 31 January from 3pm – Mark it in your Calendar 2018 - Details to follow.

UIC & Dokk1 joint International Playgroup Each Friday, – next is 12 January 2018 from 10am-12noon.
Location: Dokk1, Pusterummet, Hack Kampmanns Plads 2, 8000 Aarhus C. (the room is named 'Pusterummet') Pusterummet is in the same area as the 0-3 year area. Women in Science Day 10 February at AIAS – see attachments!
Celebrate the UN International Day for Women and Girls in Science with public lectures from women in different scientific fields. All are welcome (you too, Gentlemen!) – Lectures from 1pm to 4pm. Hosted by AIAS, Høegh-Guldbergs Gade 6B, 8000 Aarhus C.

Sideline activities - you may need a permit
If you consider to take up sideline activities in Denmark, please be aware that your current work and residence permit might not allow you to do so. If you hold a work and residence permit to Aarhus University, this permit only allows you to work for the specific and specified employer/host (AU) in the specified position and period as mentioned in your work and residence permit. If you are considering to engage in any other activities, an additional permit for that sideline activity is required. A permit for sideline activities is required for each activity. Sideline activities can be related to your work or free time. Read the guide about sideline activities

Getting Started in Denmark in the spring – with a new programme
We have set the dates for the Getting Started in Denmark events in the spring semester. Please note that events will start half an hour earlier than usual to ensure that the participants get full benefit of both the registration and orientation.

The new programme
07:45  Welcome and submission of requested documents to public authorities
08:00  Orientation by Work in Denmark, AU International Academic Staff Services and Lærdansk
09:00 - ?  Registration at the public authorities. Individual questions. Registration usually takes 1-4 hours depending on the waiting time at the ICS. 58% of the participants are done with their registration at 11am. Location: The event takes place at the International Citizen Service (ICS), Åboulevarden 31, 1., 8000 Aarhus C

What are the changes: Earlier the event started at 8:15 and the registration took place at the same time as the 3 orientation sessions. This was disturbing to the participants and caused them to miss parts of the orientation. Therefore, we have now split up the programme so that the participants first have the orientation (before the ICS opens at 9am) and then the registration takes place afterwards from 9am. This may make the event last longer, but we have aimed to alleviate this by starting half an hour earlier at 7:45 so that we can get first in line to be registered when the ICS opens. / We hope that new staff will enjoy the new programme. Feel free to refer your new colleagues who need to be registered to the Getting Started in Denmark event. Getting Started in Denmark is an event organised by AU International Centre. It offers orientation and registration for newly arrived PhD students, researchers and their spouses/partners. The event is held twice a month on a Friday. A Guide to Politics in Denmark Wednesday 18 April 2018 from 7.45pm to 9.30pm

In the fictional Danish television series 'Borgen' viewers are introduced to a small country in Northern Europe. Here, the dynamic female prime minister rides her bike to work, minority governments and compromises prevail, and climate policy is a top priority. But how does it actually work, the political system in Denmark? How is a government formed in real life? And how do minority governments generate support for bills – and stay in government at all? The Danish constitution on the one hand contains few checks and balances on the government, but on the other hand the governments are predominantly minority governments with no guarantee that a majority in parliament will actually support the bills, it puts forward. We look at how the Danish political system is, nevertheless, both very stable and has been capable of steering Danish society quite successfully through the financial and economic crisis of recent years. Further, the lecture will also discuss how the emergence of new political parties has helped sustain public belief in the political system - and how developments like European integration may Free of charge. https://fuau.dk/aarhus/program/samfund-og-verden/a-guide-to-politics-in-denmark-1811-317 Sign up: SIGN UP Lecturer: professor Christoffer Green-Pedersen, Political Science, Aarhus Universitet

Guided Tour in Aarhus: Between Vikings and WWII Occupation Saturday 28 April 2018

Explore the history of the old city and how the Vikings fortified Aarhus (named Aros at the time), how the city was founded and what daily life used to be like. Your guide will take you to places relevant to the Nazi's occupation of Denmark, informers and bombings, and explain how not all citizens were opposed to the new law enforcement until Gestapo.

The tour will end at the entrance of Den Gamle By (The Old Town), Aarhus' national open-air museum, depicting Aarhus-life before the 1900s and until the 1970’s. NB: Max 20 participants

Fellows’ Seminars at AIAS, Aarhus Institute of Advanced Studies

The AIAS Fellows' Seminars are all held in English and open to the public. See the complete spring 2018 programme of the Fellows' Seminar Series to be announced on: http://aias.au.dk/aias-fellows-seminar/ Venue: AIAS, Høegh-Guldbergs Gade 6B, AU Campus, 8000 Aarhus C (next to the International Center).

Beginner Intensive Course in Danish

As an international staff member at Aarhus University, you and your spouse or partner can benefit of free Danish lessons offered by Lærdansk at International Centre (Høegh-Guldbergs Gade 4, 8000 Aarhus C). The next Crash Course in Danish for the spring semester will take place in weeks 5 and 6, between 29th January - 9th February, every day (Monday to Friday), between 8:30 - 11:30. This course is the best solution if you want to learn some basic Danish skills very quickly, corresponding to the first 50 lessons (from Module 1) of the “Danish for the Labor Market course”. You will have the chance to focus on Danish working culture and work vocabulary, which you will be able to start using immediately after the first lessons. You can apply online using this application form before the DEADLINE: 14 January 2017. If you have questions, feel free to contact your Lær dansk Coordinator on campus, Andrei Păduroiu, at Andrei.Paduroiu@adm.laerdansk.dk or at the following telephone number: 2679 0733.

Full Semester Course in Danish
Aarhus University international staff members, as well as their spouses or partners, have the possibility to take free Danish classes on campus, in Nobelparken, Jens Chr. Skous Vej, 8000 Aarhus C.
The next beginner Full semester Course starts in week 8 (with and after 19th February) and takes place two times per week, either on Monday and Wednesday (between 18.00 - 19.30), or Tuesday and Thursday (between 16.15 - 17.45). Also, for the ambitious spouses or partners who are at a beginner level and would like to study the language in a more intensive way can choose the Monday, Wednesday and Friday course between 8:30 - 11:15 (at Lær dansk).
The course aims to develop an active work and free time related Danish vocabulary, as well as give rich insights into the Danish workplace culture and traditions in general.

You can read more details about it here and sign up online by completing this application form no later than the DEADLINE: 4th February 2018. For more information, you are welcome to contact your campus coordinator, Andrei Păduroiu, via e-mail: Andrei.Paduroiu@adm.laerdansk.dk, or at the following telephone number: 2679 0733.

3. Announcements and inquiries from others (very different options!)

Journalist at Danish broadcast company seeks:
Dear staff & students,
I am journalist at DR (Danish broadcast company) the biggest media in Denmark. I am working with a story about the consequences if a foreign student / staff works a little too much due to the working permit. At the moment you receive a fine but also lose the right to permanent stay in Denmark for 15 years. I would like to talk to staff/ students who got a fine working a little too much – maybe not knowing about how it could affect the permanent stay. Please call me back at 42320603 if you are affected or know anybody who are. Some politicians are talking about changing the law so it is important to show the consequences. I can also tell you more about the story we are working on. Thanks for your attention
Best regards  Kåre Kildall Rysgaard, Journalist at DR
Advertisement of Self-defense seminar in English for Women

Dear All,

I will be organizing (not delivering!) a self-defense seminar for women only in English. It will take place on the 3rd of March (Saturday) from 14.30-17.30h in the Aarhus Syd Taekwondo klub in Højbjerg. The price is 250kr. A Facebook event will be created with further info and booking/payment details within the next 2 weeks. Otherwise, I can be contacted by email galvevilla@hotmail.com. A similar seminar for Men only can also be organized if there’s enough demand (min.14)

Best regards and thanks! Maria Galve Villa

4. Aarhus and Denmark news / information

Record Growth Rate in Aarhus created 6562 new jobs!

Yesterday Mayor Bundsgaard at the New Year's Briefing for 600 top Businessmen shared this good news. The year 2017 brought about the best result ever in Aarhus, which means growth rate was increased with 3.6%. By September Aarhus Kommune has 190.396 workplaces. The Mayor said it is time for companies to take social responsibility.

A Greener Aarhus

The City Council is working for a greener future and growth through a series of innovative projects involving the council, scientists, and businesses. Such projects are designed to develop solutions within energy optimization and climate adaptation to reduce CO2 emissions and make the city an attractive place to live and work. The City of Aarhus wants Aarhus to be CO2 neutral by 2030, and is also working towards the municipality as a business in its own right becoming CO2 neutral by 2030. Consequently, the Council decided that the municipality will reduce its own emissions by a minimum of 2% per annum under the 'climate municipality agreement' signed with the Danish Society for Nature Conservation. For more information on the city’s green project goals, follow the news on the “Go Green with Aarhus” portal, which provides details of how each project contributes to the goal of green growth in the City of Aarhus. Furthermore, the “Go Green with Aarhus” portal allows you to discover how Aarhus is coordinating efforts within the environment and energy with business growth.
Millions to a beautiful super bike route from Risskov to the Marselisborg forests

The Aarhusian bikers have something to look forward to. The government has now deposited almost 13 million dkk to extend the bike route along the waterfront from Risskov to the Marselisborg forests. A beautiful trip to the waterfront, to enjoy a picnic, or maybe the new route to work. The bike route from Risskov to Dokk1 will be expanded and routed all the way to the Marselisborg forests. On the route, the Aarhusians can enjoy the city from the most beautiful angle and move along the coast from the green wood of Rii Skov, on to Dokk1, and further along the Tangkrogen to the Marselisborg forests. In the beginning of December, the Ministry of Transport's Bike Fund allocated 12.8 million Dkk to the new bike connection. The government subsidies thus constitutes a good part of the 30 million Dkk that it costs to realize the project.

Mom’s Day / Women are invited to visit the future Aarhus Social and Sundhedsskole

16 January all are invited to learn about the different education within Danish health system. See the calendar below.

Crown Princess Mary Protector for European Voluntary Capital 2018

Aarhus is the European Voluntary Capital in 2018, and Her Royal Highness Crown Prince Mary becomes the protector, and participates on 21 January in the opening ceremony of the capital year. "... Aarhus holds something special when it comes to volunteering, and especially in the health and elderly department many people are involved in creating activities. Crown Princess Mary’s participation is important for the attention of Aarhus as a voluntary city," says Jette Skive, Councillor at Health and Caring, Aarhus Municipality. "We will celebrate and develop volunteering in 2018, and it should be easy, fun, and accessible to be a voluntary," says Mayor Jacob Bundsgaard, who is also the chairman of the Committee on Voluntary and Co-operation in Aarhus Municipality. Mark the date in your calendar!

A new book – a declaration of love

"Vi elsker Aarhus: En kærlighedserklæring til byen ved bugten" ("We love Aarhus: A declaration of love to the city by the bay"). Twelve Aarhusians, twelve essays; considerations from a so-called big city about favorite places, childhood glamour, Aarhusian greatness, madness, and the cheerful street corners. The authors: Stine Pilgaard, Jesper Stein, Jens Blendstrup, Peter Laugesen. The priest Mette Birk, the singer Karl William, actor Line Arlien-Søborg, politician Fatma Øktem, and journalist Peter Falktoft. Film director: Nils Malmros and master chef Wassim Hallal. Everyone has in common that they have roots in Aarhus, and in the book they draw their own image of the city. Well-written reports with heat and bite. The stories alternate between flashback and present. Look forward to Jens Blendstrup’s descriptions of Djævlebakken and Lortestien.
(The devil hill and The crap street). Stine Pilgaard's story about Long-tailed shrimp cocktails served on slopes as artifacts’). Nils Malmros’ reminder of his first crush. Fatma Øktem’s declaration of love for the quiet moment in the cathedral. Jesper Steins succulent memories of the cycle path between Risskov and the city, or Peter Falktoft’s telling about “Den Permanente” (“The Permanent”). The well-written chapters can be read individually or collectively. The coffee-table book is richly illustrated with colourful cityscapes and black-and-white portraits of the authors. Visually, we come close to the city, life, people, and the sea. The book can be purchased in Danish only.

Organic reorganization three years faster than expected

Kitchens in day care, schools, and staff canteens in Børn og Unge (Children and Youth), Aarhus Municipality, have already met the city council’s target of 60 percent ecology in the municipal pots and pans by 2020 - three years before time. The ecology percentage is 67 in Børn og Unge’s kitchens - and thus the target has already passed. The rapid conversion has been possible because the kitchen workers have taken the ecology theme seriously, and have worked purposefully and systematically to minimise meat consumption and food waste. There has been a focus on challenging the usual eating habits by presenting the children for, among other things, blue mussels and seasonal vegetables. It has been received very well by people.

Future house for all generations of Aarhus Ø is underway:

A diverse building project will be up on the new harbour area of Aarhus Ø. The Generations’ House is the modern suggestion for all generations in the same house. The Generations’ House will become one of the last building projects in the first phase of expansion at the harbour area of Aarhus Ø, and it will be finished at the end of the year 2019. It is the first of its kind in Denmark, where all generations are mixed and assembled in one house. The total contract of 365 million Danish kroner was won by the construction company JFP, Jørgen Friis Poulsen A/S Herning, and the architects are KPF Architects A/S and RUM A/S, and the landscape architect is Kragh and Berglund. The building will consist of 304 public housing for young families, the elderly and adults with disabilities. A mix of youthfulness and experience, combined with a day care center for 150 children. The builders are three magistrates departments from Aarhus and Brabrand Housing Association.

Hempel Sailing World Championships Aarhus: 30 July to – 12 August 2018.

Make sure not to miss this massive event at Aarhus Ø. VM i sejlsport, from the sailing centre to open in the coming months.

SALLING Rooftop is a true attraction, for tourists and the locals.
Within three months half a million visited the fantastic place which offers a wide angle view of Aarhus City and the bay. Remember: Friday events take place at the top of Salling.
